CHILD DISCIPLINE POLICY

Alliance for Children, Inc. views discipline as a very important aspect of parenting. It teaches a child about personal safety and socially appropriate rules and boundaries. While respecting adoptive parents' need and right to make their own decisions regarding the raising of their children, the Agency maintains a very strong position regarding discipline. Alliance is opposed to the use of corporal punishment in the discipline of children. The agency will not place a child with a family who disciplines a child with physical punishment. In addition, the Agency will not place a child with a family who disciplines a child by restricting movement, confining a child in a small or locked area, withholding food, rest, or toilet use, verbally abusing a child, and/or using any other means of discipline that is designed to humiliate, embarrass, or denigrate a child, his/her birth family, heritage, or ethnicity.

The most suitable method will depend on the specific situation and the style, temperament, and personality of the individual child. Many books have been written on this subject many webinars, courses, and training seminars are available for guidance and direction. Please discuss this with your social worker if you have any questions or concerns or would like some additional resources regarding appropriate use of discipline.

We/I have read Alliance for Children's child discipline policy. We/I agree to abide by the conditions of this policy. Specifically, we/I agree:

- Not to use physical punishment as a form of child discipline. This includes spanking, hitting, slapping with an open hand, a closed fist, or any object
- Not to discipline a child by restricting movement, confining a child in a small or locked area, withholding food, rest, or toilet use
- Not to verbally abuse a child and/or use any other means of discipline that is designed to humiliate, embarrass, or denigrate a child, his/her birth family, heritage, and/or ethnicity
