About Us

Hello! My name is Maura and I, along with my husband Daniel, live in a cozy suburban neighborhood north of Boston, MA. We are a loving couple who recently relocated from TX to put down roots closer to family in New England (Maura) and the UK (Dan). We couldn't be more excited to grow our own family, which today does not include children but does consist of three pets that bring us a ton of joy. Our home and hearts are ready to welcome a child if we are lucky to find the right match.

Dan and I are driven, empathetic, intelligent, generous, and outgoing. We enjoy traveling, spending time with our many close friends & family, laughing and having fun together. In our free time, we love exploring new destinations, staying active through exercise, and cooking delicious meals.

Our decision to pursue adoption stems from our desire to expand our family and share the love we have with a child. We have a strong support system in place and are committed to providing a nurturing and stable upbringing for our kid. We believe that every person deserves unconditional love, guidance, and the opportunity to thrive in a loving and safe environment, which we are confident we can provide.
